

We would like to present our great happiness welcoming you again by preparing June 2013 special issue of EJOVOC within the scope of Kirklareli University Luleburgaz Vocational School.

In this long way to make a new frame for vocational schools and vocational education, our first issue of the journal had completed in 2011. With the great pleasure to extend our point of view and contribute to the literature within our specialties, we managed to complete our first special issue of EJOVOC. Our special edition mainly focuses on Sociology, Social Policy, Economics, Labor Economics and Cultural Studies.

The 6 of 13 articles that were applied to be published, had high scores and so, have qualified to be published in our journal. We owe our authors a debt of gratitude for their great interest.

We would like to present thanks and regards to Kirklareli University Rectorate, editors Mr. Oğuz BASOL (Kirklareli University, Kirklareli - TURKEY) and Dr. Valerij DERMOL, (International School for Social and Business Studies, Celje - SLOVENIA), authors and researchers for their valuable support within the hopeful way for the sustainability of our journal and being conscious of keeping the authors' and readers' interest sustained.
